5. Save your exported pubs to your selected folder

Note:

Depending on your operating system you may be prompted to:

'Save' - this saves to the default directory, Downloads, on your PC

'Save as' - you can choose the directory destination for your file

In some systems the file will, by default, automatically download. In this case the downloaded file (with extension .bib) can be found in the Downloads directory on your PC

6. Go to your ORCID account and from the 'Add works' button, select 'Import from BibTeX' and 'Choose file'

7. Choose file you want to import (extension .bib) and select 'open'

8. Select 'save all' and your imported publications will be listed in your ORCID account

The screenshot shows the ORCID 'Link BibTeX' interface. At the top, there is a 'Funding (0)' section with a '+ Add funding' button and a 'Sort' button. Below this is a message: 'You haven't added any funding, add some now'. The main section is titled 'Works (113)' and includes '+ Add works', 'Bulk edit', and 'Sort' buttons. The 'Link BibTeX' section has a 'Hide link BibTeX' button and a description: 'Import citations from BibTeX (.bib) files, including files exported from Google Scholar. More information on importing BibTeX files.' To the right of this description are 'Cancel' and 'Save all' buttons. A red arrow points to the 'Save all' button. Below the buttons is a list of five publications, each with a trash icon and a home icon to its right.
